Overview of the Service

Chadwick Lodge and Eaglestone View offer medium and low secure services to adults of all genders who have been detained under the Mental Health Act 1983 (amended 2007). Our services are also well known for successfully treating complex personality disordered patients and those with mental illness. In addition, we offer tailored care to those patients who present with a dual diagnosis of mental illness/personality disorder and mild learning disability.

Our psychology and therapy services offer a range of clinical and forensic interventions, including a fire-setting programme, substance misuse service, relapse prevention groups for sexual offenders and Dialectical Behaviour Therapy (DBT) for forensic patients.

Model of Care

Our patients are among the most vulnerable members of society and require sensitive, therapeutic interventions delivered in a healing environment that encourages self-awareness, knowledge and empowerment. We offer a broad spectrum of evidence-based therapeutic interventions, involving patients at every stage. The hospital's consultant-led multidisciplinary team has a wealth of clinical and research experience in forensic psychiatry. All programmes are designed to reduce the risk of re-offending and to maximise the potential and enhance the quality of life of each patient.

Outcome and Risk Measures

There are a range of bespoke clinical outcomes used for specific therapies, such as the Sex Offender Groups, Dialectical Behaviour Therapy and other programmes in addition to START and HCR-20.

Care Pathway

Our medium and low secure services enable patients to step down in a timely manner as and when they are ready. We focus on relapse prevention approaches, both in groups and in individual therapy which assist the patient as they move through their care journey. Our occupational therapy team work cohesively with patients to empower them and involve them in every step of their treatment always with the end focus on independence.

Environment

Chadwick Lodge and Eaglestone View offer patients an extremely high standard of accommodation. Each patient has their own en-suite bedroom which can be personalised. There are well maintained gardens, a fully-equipped gym and a variety of facilities to encourage positive occupational and sports therapy.
